Engaging Groups in Visual Literacy

Schedule your next art adventure today!

Students will be guided through the galleries to view and engage with fine works of art while participating in a Visual Thinking Strategies discussion.

Tours are designed to:

- improve critical thinking, language and writing skills through art viewing.
- encourage participation and build self-confidence even among struggling students.
- directly correlate with and support educational standards.

To help prepare for your tour, teachers are provided with the AMoA Educator’s Guide with artist information, reflection ideas and lesson prompts. Student tours are approximately one hour or two hours with an art activity and are scheduled Tuesday – Friday.

Admission: $4 per student (10 or more $3) Add Art Activity: Add $3 per student
 Free for Teachers, chaperones and bus drivers.

*Art activity requires a minimum of 10 participants and payment in advance.

Large groups may be divided into smaller groups for a more impactful experience.
